

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Acknowledgements vii

Giles Gunn and Carl Gutiérrez-Jones

Introduction 1

War and Popular History in America Through the Civil War

Elisa Tamarkin (University of California, Irvine)

The Revolution, With Due Respect: History, Loyalty, and the British Occupation 7

Shelley Streeby (University of California, San Diego)

Remembering/Forgetting 1848 27

Shirley Samuels (Cornell University)

Facing West 39

Raids, Riots, and Border Wars

Curtis Marez (University of Southern California)

Drug Wars are Indian Wars 73

Jorge Mariscal (University of California, San Diego)

Osama bin Lopez of Mexicans in the American Imaginary of Terror
85

Legacies of Good Wars and Bad

Eileen Boris (University of California, Santa Barbara)

The Quest for Fair Employment in World War II 101

Katherine Kinney (University of California, Riverside)

The Good War and Its Other: Beyond Private Ryan 121

Jack Talbott (University of California, Santa Barbara)

Trauma at Ground Zero 139

© 2005 by the American Cultures and Global Contexts
Center at the University of California, Santa Barbara.

All rights reserved.

PRINTED IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

cover artwork

Jacob Lawrence: Struggle. . .From the History of the American People, no. 8... again the rebels rushed furiously upon our men--A HESSIAN SOLDIER. Egg tempura on hard-board. 12x15<sup>1/2</sup> inches. Private Collection.

Artwork © 2005 The Estate of Gwendolyn Knight
Lawrence/Artists Rights Society (ARS), New York

Cover Design

Carl Gutiérrez-Jones

Book Design

Rob Wallace

ISBN# 0-9700384-6-1

National Attachment, Foreign Affairs

Giles Gunn (University of California, Santa Barbara)
War Narratives and American Exceptionalism 157

James Dawes (Macalester College)
Atrocity and Interrogation 173

John Carlos Rowe (University of Southern California)
Nationalism, Post-Nationalism, and Terrorism 193

About the Authors 209

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

As the product of diverse conversations, this volume has been a collective endeavor from start to finish. Foremost, we thank the contributing authors. Although their efforts are most obviously represented in their separate essays, their participation in an initial conference on this topic created a highly valuable foundation for a shared rethinking of the issues engaged in this collection. Throughout this process, the contributors have been very generous with their time and insights. Because the UC Santa Barbara conference acted as the springboard for this collection, we also extend our gratitude to the entities that funded the event, including: the Humanities and Fine Arts Division; the Department of English; the Center for Chicano Studies; the Interdisciplinary Humanities Center; the Office of Research; the American Cultures and Global Contexts Center; and the Rockefeller Foundation. We are also indebted to the Research Assistants in the American Cultures and Global Contexts Center who have contributed essential assistance in terms of collecting and preparing the materials for the volume. In this regard, we are especially grateful to Elizabeth Freudenthal, Sara Gerend, and Robert Wallace for their important efforts. We also extend our thanks to Associate Vice Chancellor María Herrera-Sobek who contributed valuable support as we put the finishing touches on the book. In addition, we are grateful for permission to reprint the following copyrighted material: James Dawes's "Atrocity and Interrogation" Critical Inquiry, Volume 30, No. 2 (2004); a selection from Shirley Samuels's Facing America: Cultural Iconography and the Civil War, Oxford University Press (2004). We also extend our gratitude to the Estate of Gwendolyn Knight Lawrence/Artists Rights Society, New York, for permission to reproduce the Jacob Lawrence art work: Struggle. . . From the History of the American People, no.8 . . . again the rebels rushed furiously upon our men--A HESSIAN SOLDIER.